Our portfolio for your success

WE ASSURE QUALITY

Our focus lies on quality and natural foodstuff, which we inherited from our parent company Harry-Brot. Since 1688, traditional procedures and natural raw materials are the key features in this family business. All ingredients are obtained only from the best raw material producers.

When choosing our partners, the quality of the products is as important as their origin and the production methods. All our suppliers are certified according to the independent International Featured Standard (IFS). This guarantees not only a maximum quality but also the best product safety.

We commit our preliminary suppliers to abstain from any genetically manipulated material. Our quality assurance pays particular attention to the proper declaration of our products. This includes ingredients as well as allergens and nutritional values. Natural raw materials are used in our products every day. Hence, quality assurance is our constant companion in trading.
