We cook for you.

About us

Wingert Foods GmbH, based in northern Germany between Hamburg and Bremen, is the leading manufacturer of ready meals in trays in Germany. The company has a highly productive and efficient manufacturing base established in the 1990s under Unilever leadership. Since then, all facilities and technological standards have been consistently improved.

We stand for a high level of competence in all areas, many years of successful experience in the FMCG market, the ability to make quick decisions and a philosophy that helps to build long-term and growing partnerships.

Wingert Foods produces a significant two-digit million amount of ready meals annually, which are mainly supplied to food retailers, branded companies and trade.

Outstanding product development and quality control capacities in a modern, 400 m<sup>2</sup> in-house QA laboratory ensure creative innovations and high quality assurance. The company has been continuously certified according to IFS Food (higher level) for many years.

Our portfolio for your success

For decades we have been producing millions of ambient ready meals with a shelf life of more than 12 months.

We are the established supplier for successful private labels and all relevant national and international retailers. Highest quality, IFS-certified, creative innovations and a fine taste are our basic requirements for outstanding convenience meals. Our recipes are extra delicious and free from any preservatives, artificial flavors or colorings.

Our ambition for highest standards and great results leads to products with leading quality, best in class food safety and numerous food awards. Our production facility has been IFS certified on higher level for almost 20 years.

Thanks to extensive expertise in private label businesses we implement individual solutions – reliably and professionally. Our high-performance R&D and quality department delivers creative innovations and a high level of safety for you and your business.
