Honest. Real. Good.

About us

Established in 1912 as a traditional trading company for agricultural products, the Heinrich Kühlmann GmbH & Co. KG has meanwhile evolved during the last decades to a medium-sized company with more than 600 employees. Our family-owned and independent company is still based in Rietberg in Eastern Westphalia where it was once founded. We count three production sites in our home region where we produce the finest fresh antipasti, fine food salads, spreads and dips for the retail trade, discount and foodservice. Our various customers in Germany and other European countries appreciate their partnership with us very much. Our products are marketed both under Private Label and our own brand Kühlmann.

Our portfolio for your success

Kühlmann - this name stands for high quality products in the field of chilled fine food salads, antipasti, spreads and hummus. From small packages of 150g up to 10kg buckets - our clients can choose between various package sizes and variations.

Innovation is our engine. In close cooperation with our customers our creative team constantly develops new product ideas and variations to surprise the consumers again and again. Of course, we do not use any artificial additives. Our quality level is particularly high and in terms of taste we do not allow any compromise.

- Very wide product portfolio
- Tailor-made individualized product solutions
- High flexibility

- High competencies in different product areas
- High degree of innovation
